

LIFE AFTER DIVORCE... THE PARENTING SUMMIT

Many parents in divorce receive a great deal of professional help in creating a parenting plan or custody agreement during the divorce, only to find that, after the divorce, when they really need the help, they are "on their own." This full-day workshop, led by one of the world's foremost experts in this field, is designed to give parents insight and inspiration for post-divorce parenting when they need it the most. Come learn and build the skills to generate more harmony and stability in your children's lives.
